FYN Topic: Mobile App for Landscape Plants

Question: Is there a mobile application available for choosing landscape plants in SWFL? Larry

Answer: One is soon to be released by the Center for Landscape Conservation and Ecology at the University of Florida in Gainesville. The mobile web application coming in August will have fully searchable features. 400 plants that are low maintenance, salt and drought tolerant are shown and described. All mobile platforms and web applications will work. The smart phone guide will make shopping for Florida-Friendly Landscaping™ plants much quicker and easier. A one year subscription fee costs just $1.99. Stay tuned!
